

Judy Stratman

The faithful upbringing of UMRC & Porter Hills Foundation Board member, Judy Stratman has influenced her passion for giving back to her community. Through both volunteer and professional positions, Judy has spent her life helping others. With over 15 years of experience at Chelsea Community Hospital, Judy was integral to the capital campaign that raised over $8 million to build a comprehensive cancer center. Judy also volunteered as a board member for Chelsea Education Foundation and has been involved in three church capital campaigns with over 2,000 donors participating. Judy considers it a privilege to be part of something greater than herself. She believes that every donor makes a difference, and that a joyful mission can change the lives of so many people.

Judy is now enjoying retirement and spending time with her husband. As part of the UMRC & Porter Hills Foundation Board, she finds fulfillment in serving her community and interacting with others. The UMRC & Porter Hills Foundation is honored to have Judy's faithful compassion and expertise on its board.
